

A Message from NOAA Administrator Dr. Jane Lubchenco

Celebrate National Environmental Education Week April 10-16, 2011

National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) Administrator Dr. Jane Lubchenco invites students and educators to join her and thousands of schools and organizations across the country for National Environmental Education Week "as we engage America's students to learn more about our treasured oceans, coasts and Great Lakes."

National Environmental Education Week (EE Week) is a program of the National Environmental Education Foundation and the nation's largest environmental education event. Held each year the week before Earth Day, EE Week inspires environmental learning and stewardship among K-12 students by connecting educators with environmental resources to promote students' understanding of the environment. This year, students and teachers will explore our Ocean Connections as part of EE Week's annual theme.

The National Environmental Education Foundation (NEEF) provides knowledge to trusted professionals who, with their credibility, amplify messages to national audiences to solve everyday environmental problems. Together, we generate lasting positive change.

NEEF partners with professionals in health, education, media, business and public land management to promote daily actions for helping people protect and enjoy the environment. Through our primary programs - Classroom Earth, National Public Lands Day, National Environmental Education Week, Business and Environment, Earth Gauge(r) and Health & Environment - we offer Americans knowledge to live by.
